PERSONAL PROFILE

As a dedicated student pursuing a Diploma in Full Stack Software Development at Code Institute, I am driven to excel in web development technologies. By the end of the course, I will be proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Python, and Mongo DB. I possess a robust background in Customer Service and Sales, contributing to a track record of excellence in fostering positive client experiences and driving revenue growth. I am looking for a role in which I can assert and further my current skills. I am also very eager to learn new skills. My passion lies in design and problem-solving, making me an effective communicator and a valuable team player.
